

WEBINAR INVITATION

U.S. and Canadian Employment Law: Key Distinctions

WEBINAR: Monday, December 12, 2011
12:00-1:00 p.m. EST

Please join us for Part I of a two-part series on the key distinctions between US and Canadian employment law. At our first session we will be discussing the following issues:

- What basic employment law does Canada have since it doesn't have employment "at will"?
- How can employers terminate or lay off employees?
- How do you know when a federal law or provincial law will apply to a business?
- Are restrictive covenants enforceable in Canada?
- How is overtime pay regulated?
- How is director and officer liability regulated?

Part II of this series will be held on January 24, 2012.
A separate invitation to that webinar will follow.

Continuing Legal Education:

New York: NY Admitted attorneys will be entitled to a maximum of 1.0 credit hour, which can be applied towards Professional Practice.

MODERATOR
Jason Hanson

SPEAKERS
Allan Wells
Shelley Obal
Laura Fric

REGISTRATION

Click here to register for this free webinar.

Instructions for testing your computer and internet connection will be included with your confirmation upon registration. If you have questions, please contact Vaughna MacKenzie at 416.862.4937.

OSLER